offered which, again, is so reasonable that, as Senator Landis pointed out, the Legislature cannot accept it. Senator Dierks and his cohorts want to give these speculators free money. What Senator Raikes said is if that is your intent, give it to them only when they can show that they need it. There are objective factors to be taken into consideration to determine if they need that free money from the state. If a point is reached where they don't need it, they don't get it. The excise taxes that were discussed by Senator Wickersham, and, Senator Wickersham, I'm going to digress. When you said "gluten" as opposed to "glue", we were over here in the culture corner discussing gluten feed and we were trying to figure out what it was. So I asked my colleagues what kind animal eats cattle feed? They said, cattle. I said, what kind of animal eats hog feed? They said, a hog. I said, so what kind of animal eats gluten feed? And they said, a gluten.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But none of us knew what a gluten was. And, although Senator Wickersham drew a distinction between gluten and glue, I still don't know what a gluten is. But, as he said, we all seem to know what we're talking about when we say that, so I'll keep using the term. We have this set of circumstances where the excise taxes are going to be placed, some on the gluten feed or meal, and a three-quarter of a penny checkoff on the corn per barrel...bushel. You will stop wresting the tax from these people when a certain level of money is reached in this Ethanol Fund. That is not unreasonable either. So what Senator Raikes'...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...amendment...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Raikes.

SENATOR RAIKES: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members. I, again, interested in pursuing...all, let me make the connection to the...Senator Chambers motion here. I do think it's important that we get a little better informed about ethanol production
